“Over the past several weeks, we see have seen an increasing demand for flights to Israel out of the United States. Our 100% Smart Business Class product is the perfect fit for this high-end clientele, and we strongly believe this is an opportunity for our airline to upgrade its summer program. Our human-sized nature enables us to be flexible and to launch a new route that quickly,” shared Christian Vernet, President of La Compagnie.

New York (EWR) – Milan (MXP) FROM $1,700 R/T

Direct service between New York and the Fashion Capital of the World, Milan will begin operating on November 29, 2021, with four flights per week from Newark International Airport (EWR) to Milan Malpensa Airport (MXP).

Nice and Tel Aviv are a great combination for the summer season and Milan is a strong long-term route with a balanced mix of business and leisure passengers traveling throughout the year,” says Vernet.

To celebrate the flight resumption all tickets are 100% Flex – changeable and refundable at no cost – up to 24H before departure.
